

30 years of Experience and Excellence

Montreal, QC, April, 15, 2013 - This year will be an exciting one for Port-Royal Packaging as we celebrate our 30th anniversary.

Even though the company is thirty years old we are still as active and innovative as we were in the early days. You can still find the same passion, inspiration and enthusiasm that has allowed us to position ourselves as a key player in the packaging industry.

Port-Royal Packaging had already been in business for 25 years when, in 1983, Robert Miron, Laszlo Grof, as well as two other associates bought the company. In 1990, two of the associates retired leaving Mr. Miron and Mr. Grof to head the company. Three years later, they acquired a building in Pointe-Claire with a surface of over 30,000 sq.ft to better respond to the needs of their clients.

Today, Port-Royal has 2 facilities, one in Pointe-Claire, Quebec and one in Toronto, Ontario.

We are proud to say that among our personnel we still have people who joined Port-Royal in the very early years. These people and those who have joined the company since then have most definitely contributed to our 30 year success story. It should also be noted that Port-Royal's research and development spirit has remained the same all these years – a genuine passion to offer the best products and provide our customers with superior service.

The team at Port-Royal Packaging makes a point of working in close collaboration with its customers throughout the manufacturing process in order to make sure that all of its products meet their expectations. You can rest assured that you will always enjoy a most efficient customer service.

Clients, such as Pfizer Inc, Pharmascience, Wing Noodles Ltd. and Fafard have had long standing partnerships with Port-Royal and we value all our business relationships, whether small or large.
